MEMORANDUM FOR: Members, DCID 1/2 Ad Hoc Group

FROM:

Chairman, DCID 1/2 Ad Hoc Group

SUBJECT: Principal Points of Contact Concerning
Intelligence Requirements and Priorities

1. You will recall that at the time the draft of the Intelligence Requirements Primer was initially circulated to you for comments and suggestions, it was contemplated that an Annex C would be added later, listing the senior individuals, organizations and entities identified with the functional roles in the requirements system.

2. The next draft of the requirements paper, which incorporates suggestions made by many of you, will not be completed until the organizational and procedural aspects of PRC and NITC activities have been determined. During the interim, however, the completion and availability of the lists of key people involved in the various functional roles would be particularly useful as we start the process of keeping the recently approved DCID 1/2 Attachment up-to-date. In fact, it may be appropriate to publish such a list separately as soon as we can complete it.

3. The first rough draft of Annex C is attached for your review and comment. Please understand that the draft is incomplete in that it does not list all the topical areas which we will want to consider nor are the names and telephone numbers necessarily accurate. In fact, many individuals have not yet been identified and you can help us do so.

4. Please submit your comments, suggestions, add-ons, and inserts for the blank areas by 23 September 1977. We can then discuss this subject at a subsequent Ad Hoc Group meeting.

ANNEX C

Individuals, Organizations and Activities Identified
With Functional Roles in the Requirements System

There are six major categories of participants in the Intelligence Community Requirements System structure: consumers, production coordinators, producers, collection coordinators, collectors, and processors. Although a fully integrated system exists only in concept, those who play the various roles have very significant responsibilities and are presently carrying them out.

The three charts following list the senior individuals or primary points of contact in several of the organizations represented on the PRC.

Although there are many additional individuals and organizations involved, those listed are participants in or users of the "system" as it is now in operation. The lists also provide some initial entry points of contact for people who may not have a detailed familiarity with the organization of the Intelligence Community and several of its major users.
